Marysville, WA, November 10, 2018 - K. D. Harris announces the publication of Four Folds: Pride, Perseverance, Principle and Perception by K. D. Harris. It is a collection of stories of flash fiction that will be published in December of 2018.

In "All that Matters", Derrick, a prideful Marine, journeys across the desert of Southern California to make a date he's promised to keep. However, a stoner and an overgrown bully may threaten his arrival.

At his wit's end, Derrick, a former Marine Officer comes home to find an unexpected package on his front porch. The contents of the parcel forces him to deal with an explosion of memories and emotions that were long buried.

Anthony and his long-time friend Kevin are debating the future. "Kevin's New World" presents two sides to a falling coin: Anthony's principles and Kevin's ambitions. The outcome will change the world.

Jealousy and anger spark as Kevin watches airline passengers from his concourse waiting area. When the plane takes off, Kevin and his partner Jason, are faced with a staunch reminder of what they perceive as conservative aggression.

K. D. Harris is a novelist and screenwriter of Science Fiction and Fantasy. He holds a B.S.E in General Engineering from the United States Naval Academy and is currently pursuing a B.A. in Creative Writing for Entertainment at Full Sail University. Publications to his credit include "For If They Fall...", (Down in the Dirty Magazine, July 2018), and "Turbulence," (The Corvus Review, July 2018). He's served as an enlisted member of the United States Navy and a Commissioned Officer in the United States Marine Corps. He believes in doing good for goodness sake and inspiring others to be the best version of themselves. A tattoo on his back pays tribute to the words of Ralph Waldo

Emerson, "To know even one life can breathe easier because you have lived...".
